

There are plenty of reasons why your next event should be lawn bowls at Kohi – like these...

It doesn't matter how old you are, what your sport background is, or even your level of physical ability... every single person can grab a bowl and have a go out on the green.

While lawn bowls is a fairly low impact sport, playing bowls regularly is fantastic for muscle toning and strengthening, stress relief and hand coordination.

It is something a bit different, so your event will be one that is remembered.

Chances are this will be something new for most guests; which means it's something they will talk about long afterwards, and your event will stand out from the rest!

Lawn bowls at Kohi is low cost and easy to organize.

The rate depends on your event – we take into account the scale, logistics, and our sport calendar. Prime location and personal approach treats every event as a blank canvas so you can create an original and memorable event.

Get creative with your programme, food and décor!
